

Name: Scott Bartle

PSEUDO PUBLIC CONSULTATION

Dear Planning Strategy Team,

I note that the majority of times that you responded that you'd look to make changes were from other public authorities (i.e. the environmental agency etc). I suggest that you give the responses made from the general public more thought and instead of just 'noting' things, adapt and make changes based upon what the public have said.

You are public servants, not servants of public authorities.

Also, there is no online comments page section on the website - again making it more difficult for public response.

sincerely,

S.Bartle.